THE EMPIRE SEWING-MACHINE

THE EMPIRE SEWING-MACHINE IS EXEMPT FROM ALL THESE OBJECTIONS.

It has a straight needle, perpendienlar motion, makes the LOCK or SHUTTLE STITCH, which will neither RIF nor RAVEL, and is alike on both sides: performs perfect sewing on every description of material, from Leather to the finest Nansook Muslin, with cotton, in one or silk thread, from the coarsest to the finest number.

Having neither CAM nor COG-WHEEL, and the least possible friction, it runs as smooth AS GLASS, and is EMPHATICALLY A NOISELESS MACHINE.

It requires FIFTY PER CENT less power to drive it than any other Machine in market. A girl of twelve years of age can work it steadily, without fatigue or injury to health.

Its strength and WONDERFUL SIMPLICITY of construction render it almost impossible to get out of order, and is transawayen by the company to give entire satisfaction.

Research, window and WONDERFUL SIMPLICITY of construction render it almost impossible to get out of order, and is GRARANTERD by the company to give entire satisfaction. We respectfully levite all those who may desire to supply themselves with a superior article to call and examine this TRINIALED MACHINE.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

Correction .- In the case of John Leary, in the Marine Court, reported in this paper on Saturday, it was made to appear that Benjamin F. Cook was one of the young men who threw feathers from the Lafarge House upon the crowd in the street on the day of the Prince's procession. The statement intended to be made was that Charles C. Doolittle and Samuel E. Louisberry, clerks with Benjamin F. Cook, were the offending parties. The mistake was merely a clerical one, but needs nevertheless to be corrected. Mr. Cook is a respectable merchant, and not at all likely, as all his friends know, to engage in any such boy's play.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Nov. 19.—Before

CASE OF CRIM. CON.
Orville H. Brown agt. Charles M. Davidson.
This is an unusual case to come before this Court.
The action is for crim. con. Mr. Truman Smith, counsel for the plaintiff, opened the case in behalf of his client. He said that the plaintiff was fermerly a resident of Boston, and the defendant was a merchant in this city. This was an action, he said, against the defendant, who is proprietor of a large wholesale havery, and a wealthy man. His client was respectable, and he cay, and a wealthy man. His client was respectable, and he said the good or ill fortune to be a poor man. In March, 1857, also client was married to a beautiful but peer girl, named Adeide Valpe, daughter of Capt. Valpe.

remarks about the expense, he always told her he had picinty of money.

From this house he removed her to a boarding-house in East Twenty-sixth street, where she lived from June to October, 1659, when he removed her to the Lafarge House. Here he visited her as her unde, and in fifteen days her bill am unted to $50 or $7.0. From this place he removed her to No. 138 House, ar street, still visiting her as her nucle. About this time she became acquainted with Elliott, to whom she communicated her situation, and asked his advice. He advanced her numey, and advised her to return to her husband, and destroy the article or suration, which course he followed and they acreed to live together again. But this was not of long domains, and he connect to this city. This complicated case was again before the Court for the purpose of correcting certain errors in the findings of fact, as set torth in the copies of indigment delivered to counsel. The particulars are of no interest to any parties but those immediately concerned, being wholly a dry matter of figures.

Subsequently some of the many defendants in the case applied for further time in which to make a case for appeal, and also for sax of proceedings without accurity in the interim. The Court allowed disty days further time and required no security. Wim. News for planniff; E. Bliss, John A. Burrill, and J. Larceque for defendants.
